

Christina Miller

Christina Miller of Cibolo, Texas, is a long term resident of the area. As an Air Force brat, Christina lived in other places, but Cibolo was always 'home' and when her dad retired at Randolph AFB, Cibolo became her permanent home. She has served as a GVSUD board member since 2014 and has been a GVSUD customer for more than 20 years.

Christina spent her early career years working as retail manager for several companies, including Walmart, Hobby Lobby and Jo-Ann Fabrics. Following that, she used her management skills in the construction field, handling a gamut of projects from mobile homes, buildouts, painting, deck construction and some commercial construction projects as well.

With a strong belief in giving back to the community in which she lives and works, Christina has served in a variety of volunteer positions, including two years for the City of Cibolo's Park and Recreations committee and two years for the City of Cibolo's Cibolo Fest Committee. When her children were younger, she also devoted a great deal of volunteer hours to assist with school-related projects and activities.

Christina is now a stay at home wife and mother. She loves to craft, play disc-golf, workout, read and always makes time to spend with her family and friends. She regularly volunteers at her church, assisting with projects such as stuffing backpacks with food for children at Schertz Elementary who need food for the weekend.

Christina and her husband, Paul, have a blended family with three children and two grandchildren. They are also the proud owners of a much-loved dog, Stark.
