

John David Frias

GVSUD Board President

John David Frias, a Cibolo resident, proudly joined the US Army, where his dedication and exceptional skills earned him numerous accolades and recognitions. In 2010 and 2011, during his deployments in Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation New Dawn, John served as a tactical team chief and a logistics/supply manager. His contributions were instrumental in his unit's successful withdrawal from Iraq.

Upon returning to civilian life, John pursued further education and obtaining a Bachelor of Applied Science in Computer Applications and a Master of Arts in Applied Management with a focus on Organizational Management from Wayland Baptist University.

John's dedication extends beyond his professional life. He has volunteered time and expertise with the City of Cibolo for 5 years, serving as a Planning and Zoning Commissioner. Chairman of the Board of Adjustments, Previous Vice Chairman of the Capital Improvement Project Committee, and a member of the Unified Development Committee. He was also presented with the Gary Kelly Service Award for his continued efforts and commitment to the Cibolo area.

John now serves as the Vice President of Sales & Special Projects for Dominguez Contractors, a family-owned and operated construction company specializing in residential and commercial projects throughout Texas. Notably, none of his clients or customers fall within the GVSUD service area. His responsibilities include overseeing sales, supply chain operations, and project management while ensuring timely delivery and top-quality service on all projects.

John serves as a Director within the Greater San Antonio Builders Association, driven by his commitment to ensuring residents' voices are heard in the building industry. Rather than aligning solely with builders, he advocates for community concerns such as lot density, water conservation, future water inventory, and infrastructure impact to promote responsible, sustainable growth. By engaging builders directly, John fosters productive discussions that bring to light residents' needs as new development emerges, ensuring future projects are thoughtfully planned with long-term community interests in mind.

Beyond his professional commitments, John treasures time with his wife, Angelica, and their three children, Gabriel, Zane, and Amora. In his free time, he enjoys coaching baseball, taking the family to Disney World, and creating lasting memories through outdoor adventures like fishing, hunting, and golfing. Whether traveling together or simply enjoying a weekend at home, John values every opportunity to strengthen his bond with family and friends.
